The rather extraordinary arrival of Stuart in the Little house in NYC begins a funny and tender story of an heroic figure. In spite of his small size - just over two inches - Stuart gets around a good bit in the world. But he does have some trouble now and then, like the time he was rolled up in a window shade, or when he got dumped into a garbage scow. His great adventure comes when, at the age of seven, he sets out to seek his dearest friend, Margalo, a beautiful little bird who stayed for a few days in the Little's Boston fern.
