God Grant Me Serenity: A Just Listen Program Journal (Volume 1) Tina Perry

I created the Just Listen Program to help people throughout the world understand they can have the strength to get through any challenge big or small. I want them to know and feel that no matter what the challenge, they can face it and be successful. I've always believed that the life experiences and the struggles that I have faced and overcome could be used as an example for others and I wanted to reach out to those in need to help in any way I could. I feel blessed to be able to create several distinct divisions of the Just Listen program to teach about positive-living and maintaining a positive-lifestyle while overcoming any one of many addictions. Just Listens Art Program is an excellent way for people to express their feelings. It gives those who face challenges in their life an opportunity to surround themselves with positive people through gatherings where people who want to share their story can, and those who don't want to share can Just Listen with the support of others all while creating a unique piece of art. As a women that has an alcoholic father and has herself been substance abuse free for over two decades, I must now face the reality of being the parent of an addict. That's the reason I created the Just Listen program. I believe it's a great way to help others as they face the challenges of life. Tina Perry
