There were many types of Civil War weapons ranging from muskets to ironclads. In the roughly 80 years between the American Revolution and the start of the Civil War, weapon technology had advanced greatly. Despite advancements in technology the arsenals in both the Union and Confederacy were still mostly stocked with the old style smooth-bore. However, after the war shortly began new ideas and deadly creativity were brought to the battlefield. Machine guns, double barrel cannons, and new types of ammunition were put to use.
