Note: This is Christian novella. It is about 27,492 words long. A young woman goes shopping one day, and miraculous healings start taking place in her presence. Thirty-two-year-old Belinda Johnson is sitting in her car when a girl in a wheel chair captures her attention. Seconds later, energy rushes from Belinda into the teenager's body, and the girl is instantly healed. Belinda awakens later, awed by the possibility that she participated in a real-live-like-in-the-Bible miracle. Yet, as time passes, she soon finds herself at odds with some of the circumstances regarding the phenomenon, and she struggles to understand God. By her own admission, she prefers an uncomplicated life, but her life is further complicated by a new relationship that brings its own surprising problem. An Invisible Hand is a Christian novella with unique demonstrations of healings, and praise and gratitude to God. It is rich with the wonderful interactions and camaraderie of family and friends, with just the right touch of romance, and with a cast of characters so real, you'll feel certain you know people just like them. Moreover, Belinda's personal journey compels you to follow along and to put yourself in her place. How would you feel? How would you react? How would it affect you to suddenly become God's servant of healing?
